

LOCAL NEWS.

We Advertisers.

Nearly 15 thousand copies of the Register are circulated among the Soaring population every day, besides the large numbers served to regular subscribers. Advertisers will take note accordingly.

Announcements.

Governor's Theatre.—The theatre this evening has been rendered by Mr. Grover and all members of the dramatic company for a benefit to the sick and wounded soldiers, all the proceeds of which are to be distributed among the military hospitals in the city.

Theatre.—The committee returned in a few moments, accompanied by Governor Curtis, who was received with great applause, and who, in his address to the meeting, said, "I have no doubt those who would be glad to contribute to the object, but who, from various reasons, will be unable to attend the performance. To these we would say, at least, go to the window of the box office and purchase a ticket or two, and thus help to sustain our patriotic entertainment professed. See the advertisement."

Holiday's Minstrels.—The Holiday's, who come to us very highly commended, will commence operations at Ford's Atheneum to-night. The troupe is a very full one, and includes an amount of musical and dramatic talents which will fail to obtain the attention and admiration of the seeking living entertainers, or drawing to dispel with the sparkling charms of music the mists of the day. Harry H. is the comedian of the company, and a sister could not be desired. Miss Bell is the aid of the accompanist, and the leader of the stars, Mrs. Chevalier, Harry, a vocalist of great power and of fine musical education, figures among the prominent members.

The tariff of admission, it will be seen, has been fixed at the reasonable rate of twenty-five cents, with the privilege of reserving seats through the box office.

Circusmen.—The enterprising managers of a magnifico temple of wit and mirth, avocations to provide for the amusement of our citizens, have engaged an entire new company artists, who will make their first appearance night. Among them is the great negro minstrel, Jimmie Jackson, who will be a feature with his sweet songs to night. The entire company at the Canterbury is now, not one I could name, re-engaged. Those who attended to-night will leave with a determination to go again.

Gen. Samuel F. Carey.

At a full hour yesterday it was announced that this distinguished advocate of temperance and pure patriots was to speak at Wesley Chapel at four o'clock.

Notwithstanding this brief and limited notice, the appointed hour the church was well filled, and for an hour and a half the eloquent speaker held his hearers spell-bound, some thrills of sentiment compelled spontaneous applause in spite of the day and place. The speaker commenced by saying this was the day—especially for the discussion of this question. Shall the land of Washington be forever a slave? and if so, what becomes of our war? he closed, to the effect that if this enemy of manhood, is not banished, yet this patriot may well keep on his woods of mourning. There were more people in this city bowing to Bacchus, the world of all beatitudens or Christendom, than are bowing the knee to the God of universe.

Alcoholics are not known in nature, they do not belong to nature, but are the results of rotteness and decay in society. It is produced by putrefaction, and it pollutes all that it touches. It is produced by death, and produces death.

It is said that the Bible encourages the use of intoxicating drink. He proposed to speak that. The Bible speaks of a kind of wine that is good, and of a kind that is bad. The kind that is bad is not contradicted. In the only verse that speaks of wine in any connection, there are nine different words in the Bible which are translated "wine," only one of which was called good. This was the puree of the grape, unfermented, and in that state it was harmless.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.

Mr. Holbrook graciously acknowledged the compliment, thanking the donors for the beautiful gift, and pledging himself to a faithful service of his duty. He hoped ever to merit the confidence and esteem of his friends, as an officer and his conduct as a gentleman.

The presentation was made by Mr. Henry P. Turner in a handsome and most appropriate speech, calling the memory of which he was recently adopted by the Union.